HAPPY TEACHERS DAY

Teacher's Day at Vidya Devi Jindal School was celebrated with the enthusiasm of a grand festival. 12th graders, the driving force behind the celebration, practiced tirelessly, organizing various events that filled the campus with joy. Keen students from other classes supported by packing gifts and decorating, transforming the auditorium into a vibrant party space. The day began with heartfelt wishes for the teachers, followed by a unique twist as the 12th graders took over the classes, teaching for half the day. Later, teachers were warmly welcomed into the auditorium with applause. The program featured mesmerizing dance and singing performances, filling the hall with energy and cheer. The celebrations concluded on a sweet note with the much-anticipated opening of the chocolate vault, where teachers and the senior-most students indulged in delectable treats, bringing the memorable day to a joyful close.

Jab We Met Bawneet

INTERVIEW

Bawneet Kaur

@HOUSE PREFECT KASTURBA

1. What are your hobbies?

My hobbies include socializing and engaging in social work.

2. What is your dream job?

My dream job is to become a politician.

3. What would be your dream job if money didn't play any role?

If money were no object, I would aspire to be a judge and practice as a magistrate.

4. What is your favorite mess food combination?

My favorite mess food combination is paneer with dal makhani.

5. What is your favorite time of the day?

My favorite time of the day is leisure time and Jha Sir's legal classes.

6. What is your most and least favorite chore as a house prefect?

My most favorite chore is overseeing interhouse practices, while my least favorite is creating and sending lists.

7. When did you join the school, and since when have you been dreaming of becoming a house prefect?

I joined the school in Grade 6. I began dreaming of becoming a house prefect in Grade 7, when I was inspired by the work of other house prefects and motivated by the house spirit.

8. Can you recall an embarrassing moment after becoming a house prefect?

One embarrassing moment was arriving late to the mess for a meal.

9. Describe how you felt when the prefect badge was being pinned on you.

—"That moment was a blend of nervousness and happiness, and I was deeply moved by the spirit to uplift my house."

10. House-wise or class-wise residency?

I prefer house-wise residency because it facilitates easier practice and supervision and fosters greater unity.

11. Which task do you sometimes neglect while admonishing others for the same?

I sometimes neglect tidying up the room while reprimanding others for not doing so.

12. What is your favorite inter house event?

My favorite interhouse event is the array of sports events, with a particular fondness for hockey interhouse.

INK AND INTRIGUE

The gazette is yet again with another go-to gossip column, which is just enough to ease a headache and fill your head with convivial thoughts.

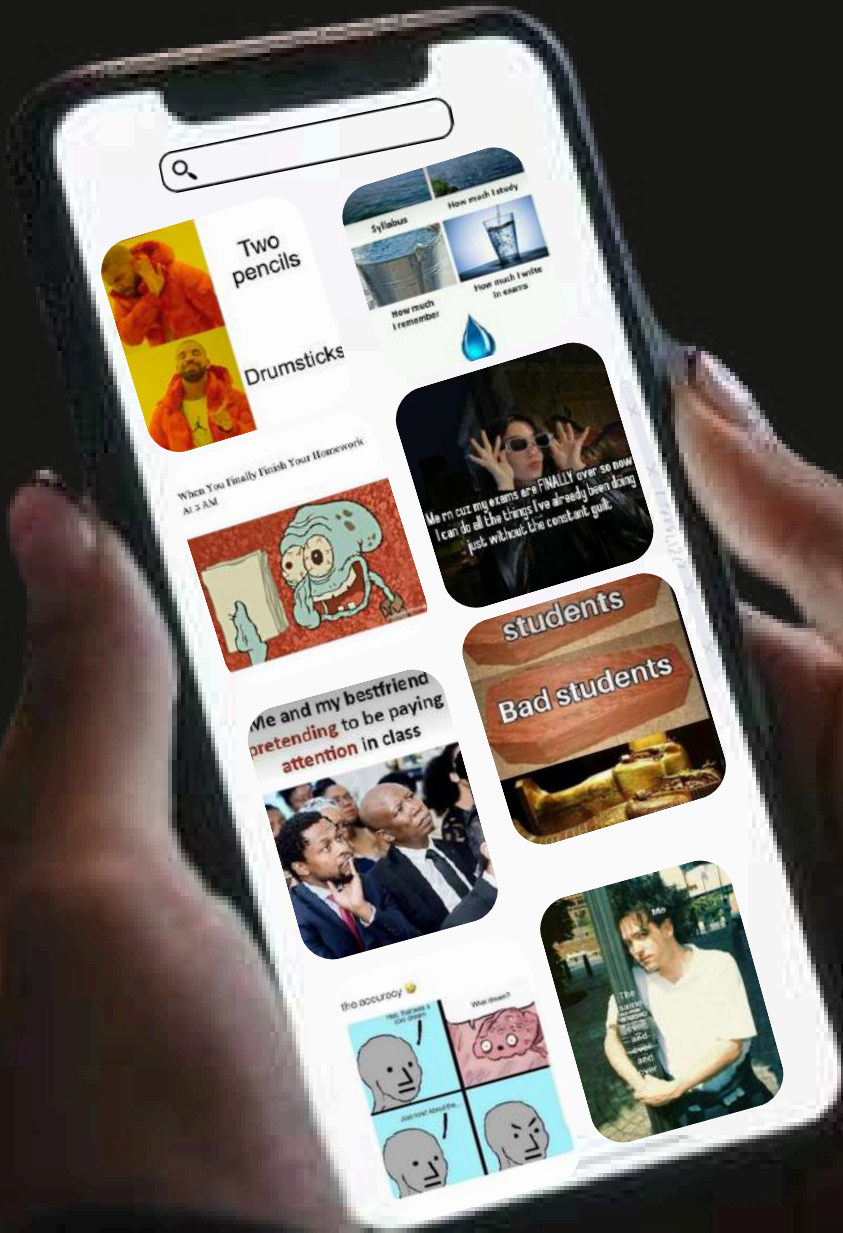

Well, it's finally the result o'clock, as students seem to have mind-blowing hours of reviewing their midterm mark sheets and teachers encountering the series of triumphs as well as tears every day.

Nevertheless, few seem to have accepted their reality, while others struggle to get an upgrade on their marks.

It looks like the vacation mode in the jindalites' spirits has been switched off, as the announcement of the trip cancellations has surely turned some of the blue skies grey. Since the trip is still on for grades IV-VI, let's wish them a bon voyage.

Now for the good part, the auditions have already marked the onset of annual day practices. So let's buckle up as an incredible annual and sports day awaits, i.e., days of endless practices as well as the beginning of everyone's most-awaited event: the mass drill. Be it a change in the prefectorial board structure or the reduced number of call days, we promise to be your constant reporters.
